A PUBLICATION OF IN HIS NAME MINISTRIES

THE NEED.

We started building our relationships with the evangelical fellowships of Dire Dawa and Harar in August of last year, when we included these cities among those we visited to distribute the Amharic version of “Spirit of Fire”—the book that Tamryn wrote on the Holy Spirit and evangelism. Both locations are in desperate need of the Gospel. They are found in the far east of Ethiopia, around 50km apart, close to the borders of Djibouti and Somalia. Dire Dawa is a thriving city with half a million inhabitants but less than 3% of these being born again. Harar is deemed to be the fourth holiest city of Islam, after Mecca, Medina and Jerusalem. In fact, it quite possibly has the largest concentration of mosques in the world, with over eighty in total within a relatively small area—three of which date from the 10th century—and additionally, over one hundred shrines. Less than 6% of its population are born again.

THE WORK.

We held a four-day Fire Conference in Dire Dawa from 1-4 September and another in Harar, from 8-11 September. Our venues were the largest, most centralised churches in these cities. The purpose of Fire Conferences is straightforward: Empower local believers to share the Gospel in their own communities, with signs and wonders following! We poured into the delegates in session after session, teaching them key principles relating to the Holy Spirit and evangelism. We equipped them to be used by God with power and the messages were received with fervour, every truth being wholeheartedly absorbed. During the final service in both cities, we spent extensive time laying hands on every attendee, praying for them with intensity. Men and women were filled with the Spirit, bondages were broken, boldness imparted, diseases vanquished and believers fired up for soul-winning. It was a time of splendid, divine chaos.

THE FRUIT.

The fruit that these Fire Conferences will bear is going to be terrific. Harar and Dire Dawa are not easy places to live as born-again believers. However, our God is busy cracking open the spiritual darkness that pervades these cities—and the greater area in which they are found—and causing the Light of Life to shine supreme. Dearest friend, thank you such much for your faithful prayer and financial support. You have mightily impacted two cities with minority born-again populations, setting the believers ablaze with the fire of God and rallying them for extravagant evangelistic efforts. Dire Dawa and Harar shall be saved and you have played an essential role in bringing this to pass. Ethiopia belongs to Jesus!
